

THE CONTEMPORARY HISTORY

GROUP 4

Chiara

Núria

Bryan

Arnau

Ylenia

WHAT IS THE CONTEMPORARY HISTORY?

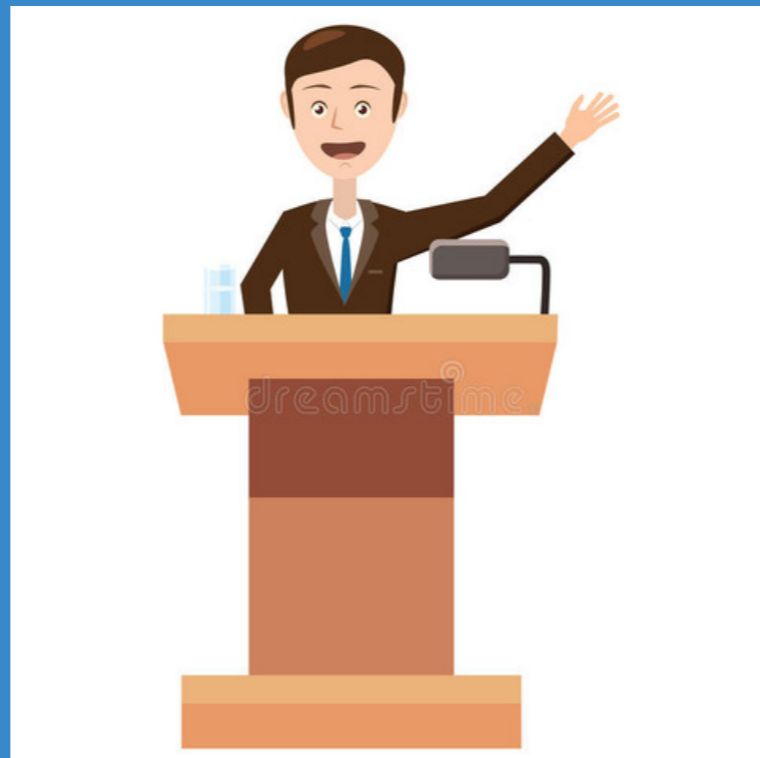

It is the period of history that starts with the French revolution (1789 dC) and continues until nowadays.

In this period, a lot of changes happen.

For example, not only a king can govern a territory but also a president can do it.

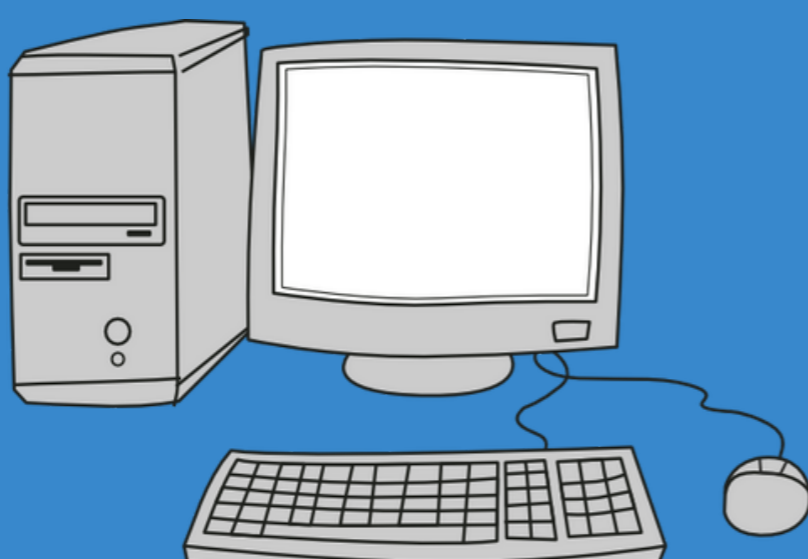

The humans can vote to decide who they want as a president.

There are also:

2 world wars

Technological advances!

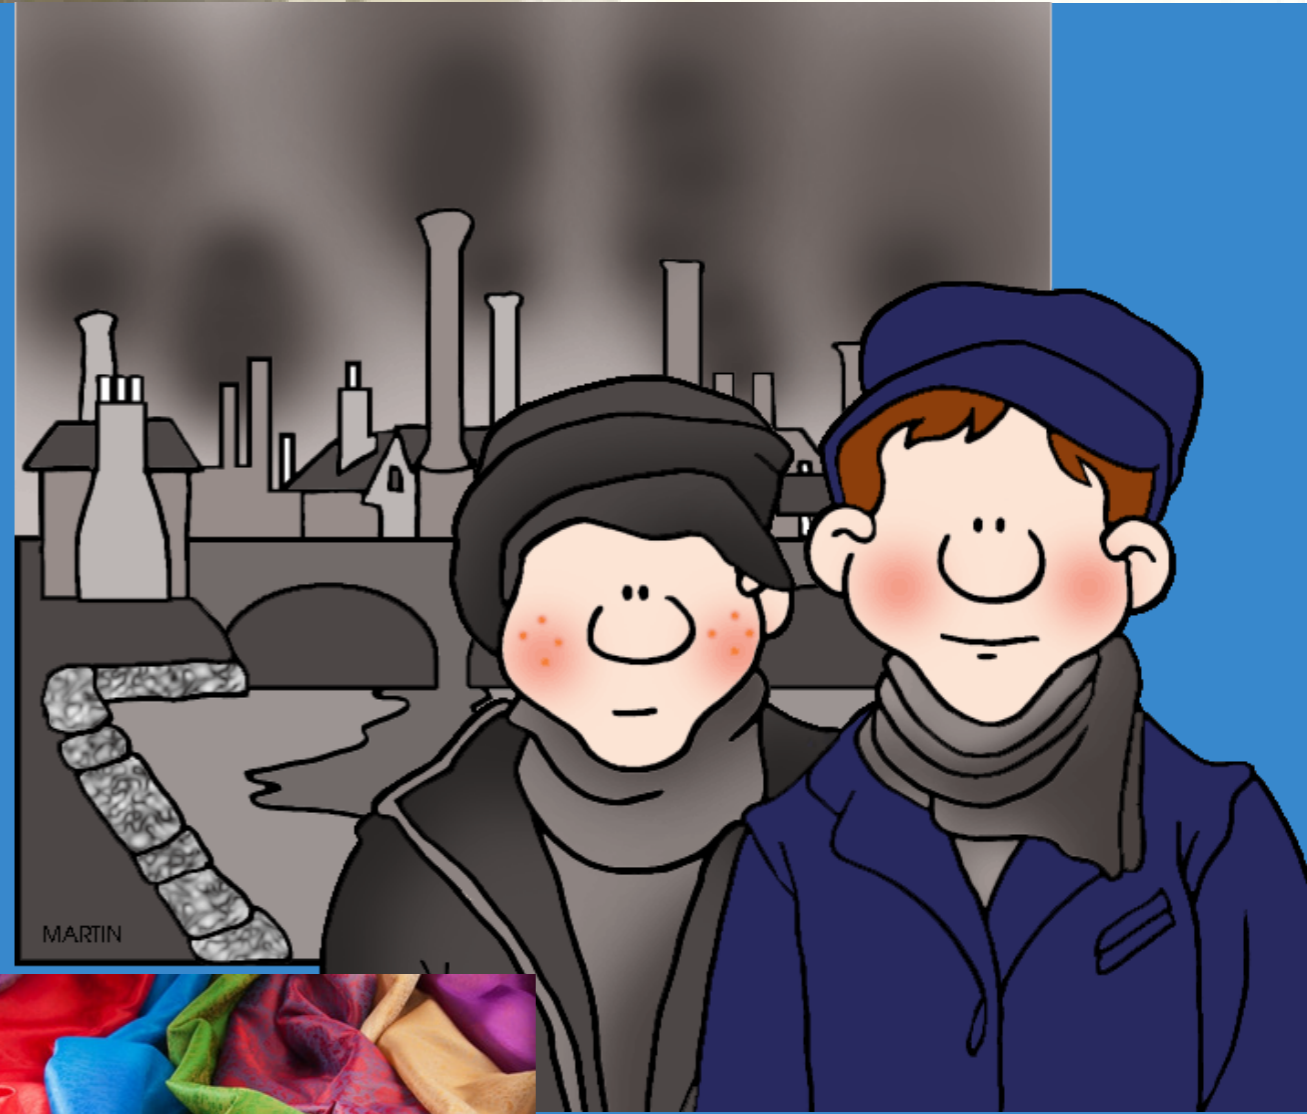

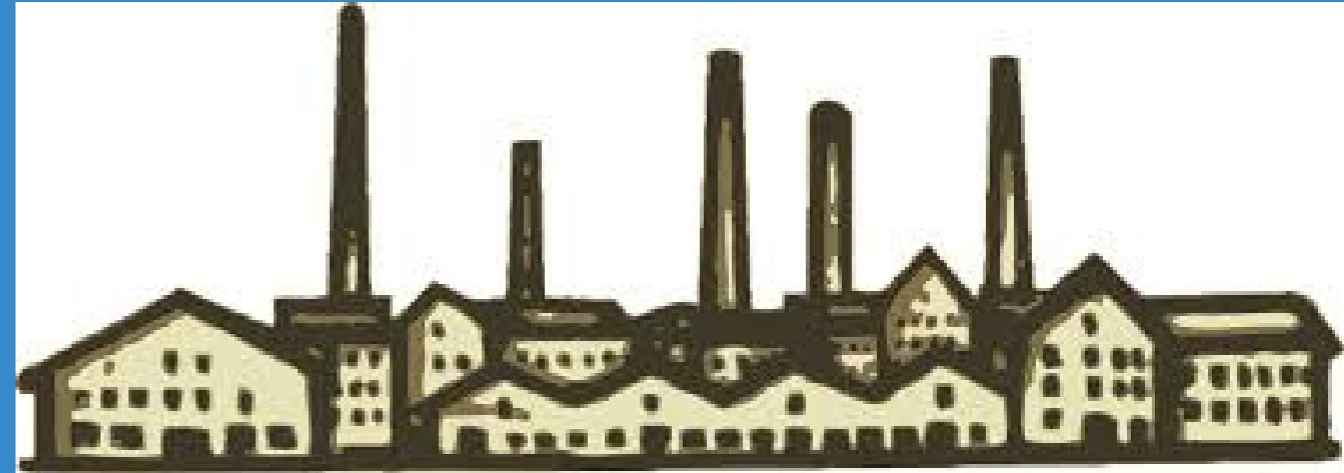

THE JOBS OF THE CONTEMPORARY HISTORY

In this period, the humans work in factories.

There are machines that facilitate the work of the people. For example, the machines help to make clothes.

The people from the villages come to the city to work in the factories.

WHAT DO THEY EAT?

In the Contemporary history, the humans eat a big variety of foods.

Thanks to the transports, the humans can eat food from other countries a part from the food from their country.

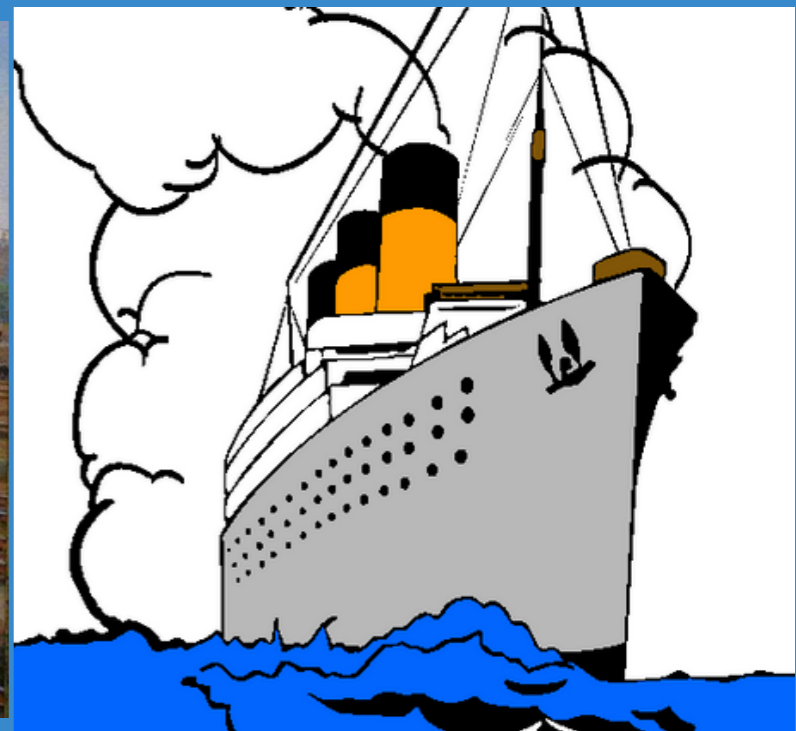

WHAT ABOUT THE TOOLS?

In this period, there are many inventions.

There are inventions in the transports, in the communications and in the medicine.

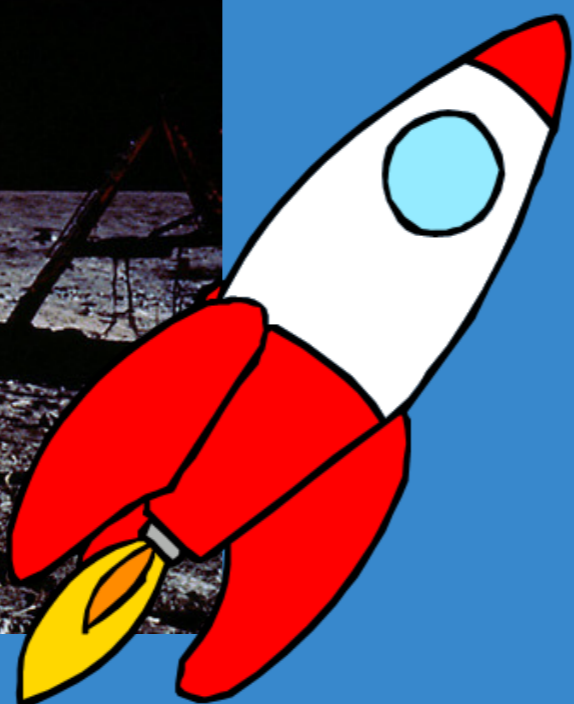

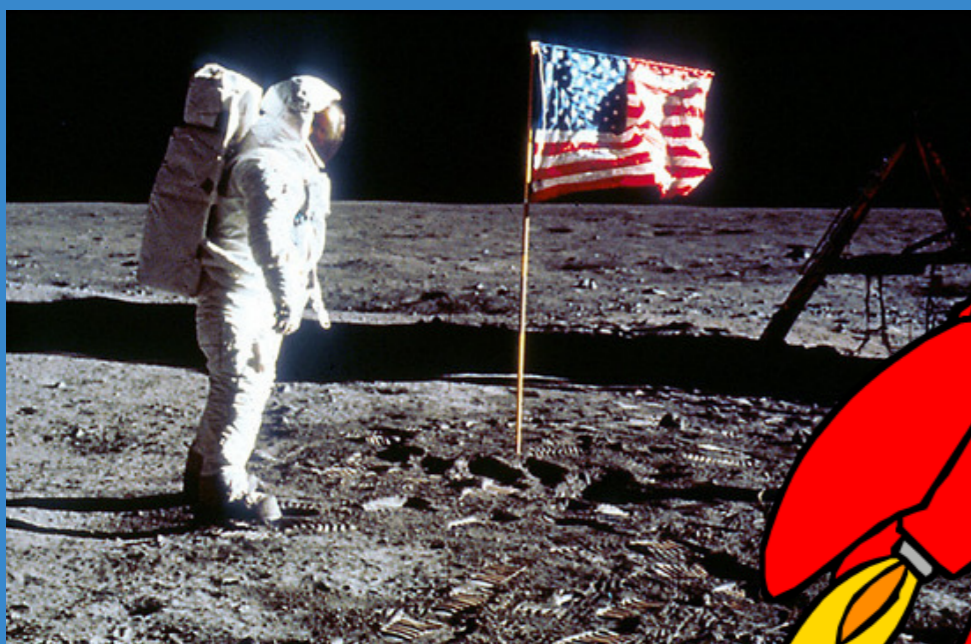

In the transports, they invent the steam locomotive, the steamboat, the car, the plane...

They also invent communicative tools: the telephone, the radio, the television...

In the medicine, they invent the vaccines and the antibiotics.

In 1969, the man lands in the moon for the first time.

He arrives with a rocket named "Apolo II".

ORGANIZATION OF THE CONTEMPORARY HISTORY PEOPLE

In the beginning of this period, there are many inequalities between the humans.

There are humans that are very rich and humans that are very poor.

The poor people complain about the few rights and advantages they have.

They fight with the rich people.

After, a new class appear:
the workers, that work in the factories.

HOW DO THEY DRESS?

Women wear shorter skirts and they start to wear trousers and bra.

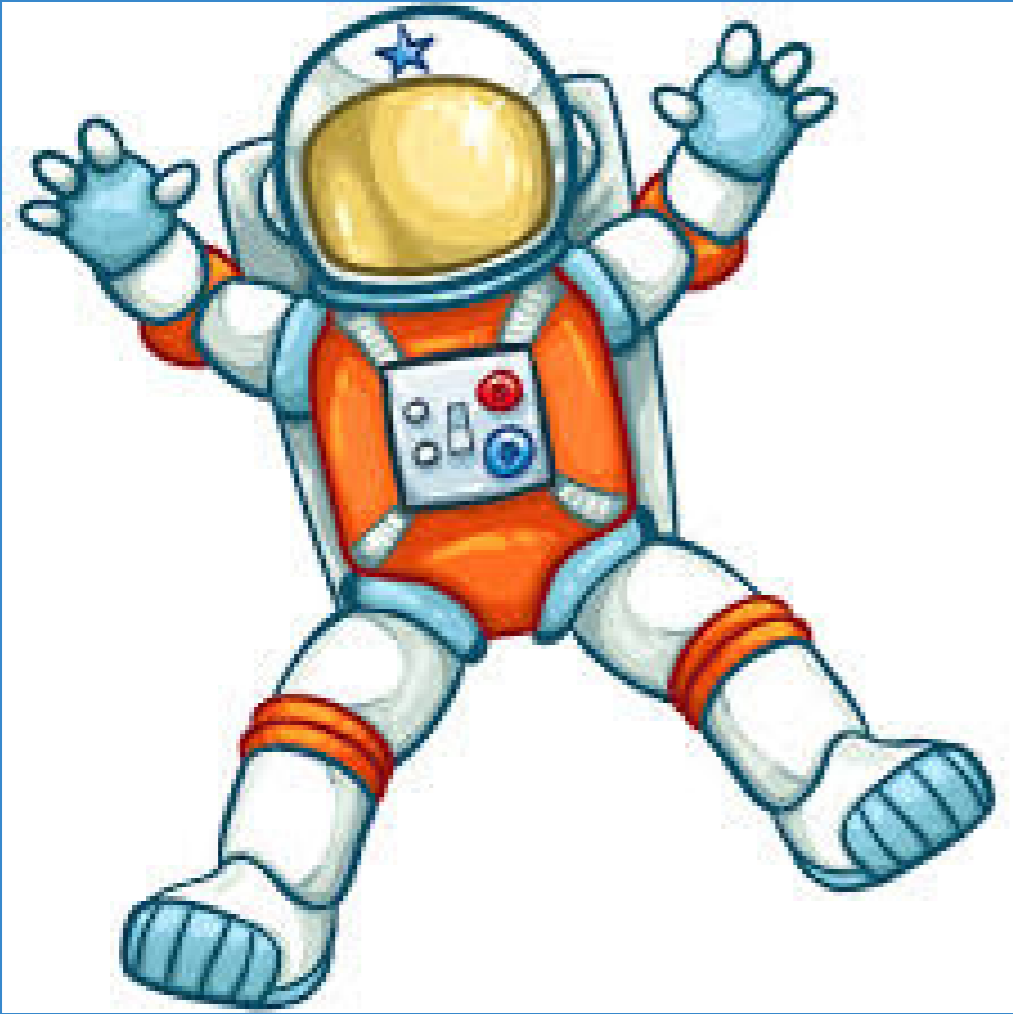

Men wear suspenders and shirts.

FACTS FROM THE CONTEMPORARY HISTORY

There are conflicts...

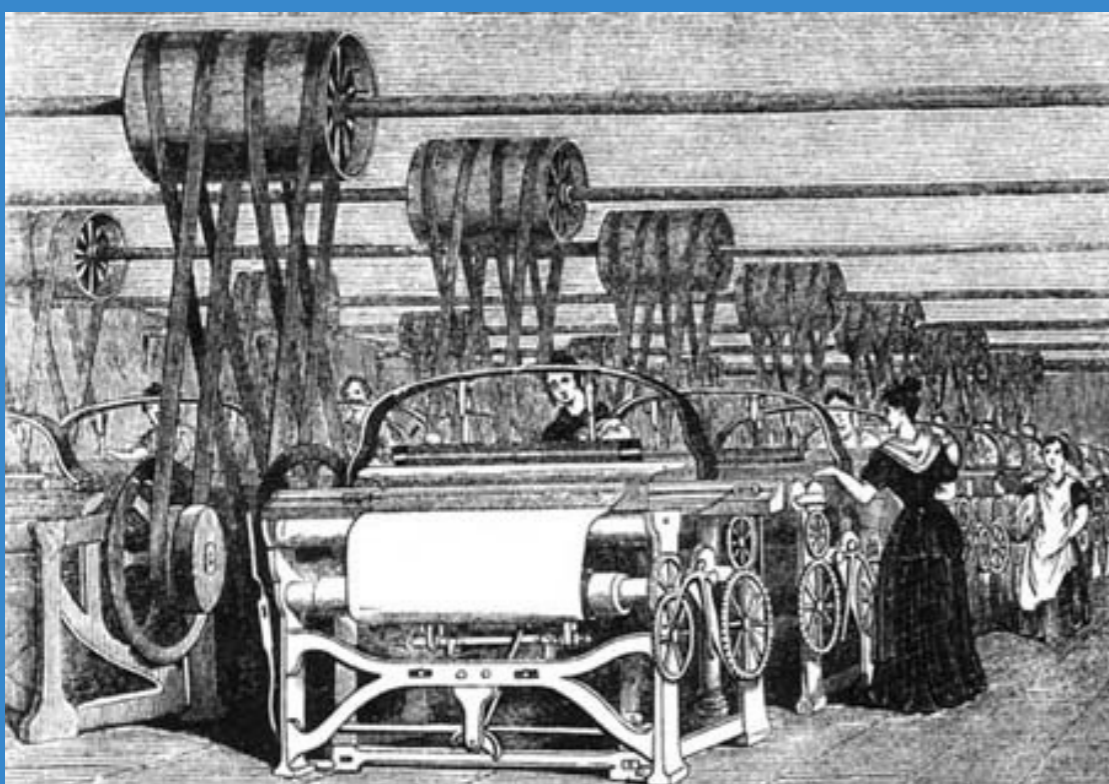

The French revolution is the conflict that happens between the poor people and the rich people in France the year 1789.

The workers fight against the rich people. After this, there are new rights for the people.

and other changes!

There is also the Industrial revolution. It is a process in which the machines do the craft products and the humans control them.

The homes of the Modern history people!

People live in cities that are very big now.

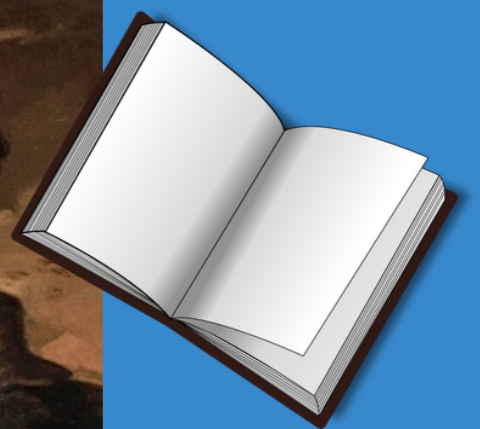

The poor live in small houses near the factories where they work.

The rich live in big and luxurious homes.

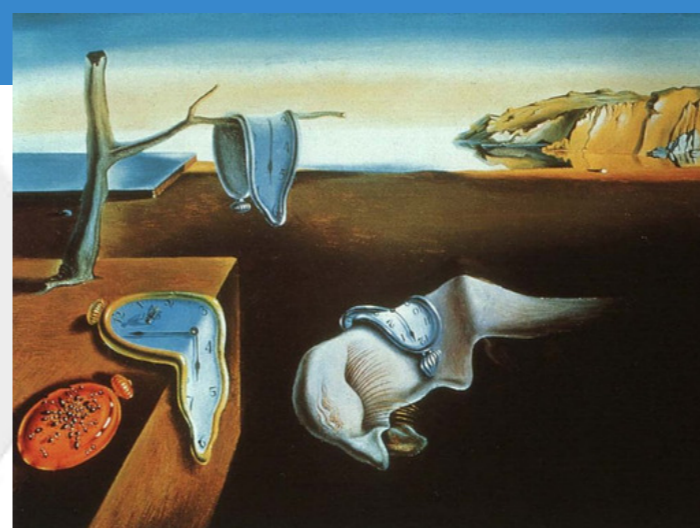

WHAT ABOUT THE CULTURE?

There are important writers!

There are new forms of art like the cinema and the photography!

There are amazing painters!